I so enjoyed Molly. She was so spunky and funny and smart and full of life. I knew her only for a few summers but those were special times we had. I was so shocked to hear she had died, having just got her degree and found her true love and marriage and started a new chapter in her life. She bore the loss of her brother a few years earlier with such grace. I cannot understand any of this, and the loss of her grandma a week before her own. Such tragedies we are asked to bear! I am so sad for her husband Jeremy and mom Patty, who is my dear neighbor. I will wear her ski gloves and hat and sweater with warmth in my heart, keeping her close. Such a jewel she was, that hair and eyes and joy are unforgettable. Such a loss. Susan Webster

We knew Molly as a young person, but haven't seen her in years, so it is nice to have the recent photo of her. She looks so sunny and lovely. I guess that's where the greatest pain is: so much promise, so much lying ahead of her, so much for you all yet to share. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all in hopes that in time you will be able to accept your great loss. Bill and Linda
