Olga was the nicest woman! I got to know her at the hospital, I would draw her blood every morning on ICU. I would draw her blood last, so we would have time to chat. She would talk to me about her son, and our favorite breakfast place Duffy's. I would make her a coffee in the morning, she would only let me make it because we took our coffee the same way...4 creams, no sugar! I was absolutely devastated when I came back from being off and found out she had a heart attack and got intubated. Then I went on vacation and came back and she was gone. I have never cried over a patient passing before. But I was heartbroken, everyone was on ICU. She was such a wonderful woman and a joy to talk to. She will forever be one of my favorite patients. I am so very sorry for her son, she would talk about him all the time. After everything she had been through, she was such a trooper and had a positive attitude. My heartfelt condolences to her family! God Bless you all! 🙏
