Ann Marie was caring, considerate and compassionate which made her an outstanding teacher and colleague. Our years together at LPS were meaningful and she helped mentor me through my early teaching career. Her family always came first and when she spoke of her husband and children she glowed. RIP dear friend.

Ann Marie was a wonderful person, teacher, and friend to all she met. She taught with myself and Mark Molloy at the Leonard School in the 80s. She would always laugh at our antics toward administration and students. The world has lost one of the best. May God's light shine upon her soul forever.
