“ Although I only worked with Therese for a short time at Hunking School, I felt like I had always known her. She truly cared about all of our students and they were so lucky to have had her. The world has lost a kind and gentle soul. Therese's quiet and loving presence will be greatly missed but never forgotten. I send my love and deepest condolences to her family during this difficult time. Carol Van Doren

“ I worked with Therese at Bradford Elementary and Hunking. She was such a gentle, caring person. I will cherish the many lunches spent with her on the 3rd floor at Hunking and getting to know her much better from those. She was so helpful with her students. My sincerest sympathies. Lori Curry

“ Therese was one of the kindest, most selfless women I have ever known. Her journey and stories from Lebanon were unbelievable. Even with illness, Therese always had a smile on her face and a resiliency to survive that I always envied. Students always came first and no matter what kind of a day you had, she would always ask how you are and pray to saints on your behalf. The world has lost yet another kind soul, and I pray that she's at peace and smiling down at all of us at this time.

“ I always remember your beautiful mother's smile greeting me at the door to pick you (Anabelle) up to go out or coming out of church. She was always happy to see you dressed up having fun but clenching her chest worried to make sure you stayed on a good path. I'm sure you did well in her eyes and seeing the photos of her with your children she seems so happy. Heaven gained an angel. I'm sorry for your loss.
